

Statement on the validity of SARS-CoV-2 Antigen Rapid Test Kit

Our company continuously monitors the data of Coivd-19 variant that is currently concerned. For the newly discovered Omicron (B.1.1.529), our company has compared the variation sequence with the existing products in a timely manner, and all mutation sites are outside the sites of our products. Therefore, it can be shown that all the SARS-CoV-2 Antigen Rapid Test Kits manufactured and sold by our company can still be effectively detected.

In the future, our company will continue to follow up on the mutation of Coivd-19 at home and abroad, and timely evaluate the detection ability of our products to ensure the sensitivity and specificity of the test kits for the detection of mutated strains.
